KIANI

“Transitioning to Pace was not smooth because I was resistant to change. I wasn’t used to people caring, trying, or bothering me to get my stuff together. With the help of my team, I learned how to control my temper when things weren’t going my way and I learned to self-advocate. Soon, things began to look up for me. I was being given opportunities no one would have thought I would be, and my grades started to improve. I realized that graduation was possible. I even got honor roll and now I am a proud graduate of the Class of 2023!

“ Pace's impact on the girls' lives is unparalleled. The academic component aside, a Pace girl flourishes in a community that embraces her individualism and allows her to grow into a secure and productive member of society. I have been involved with Pace for over 10 years and their motto: 'Once a Pace girl, always a Pace girl' rings true in my heart.
